A new bathroom in days!

Bathroom Renovation with No Mess

Fantastic Bathroom Design for Small Spaces

Everyone dreams of an attractive home bathroom instead of the drab facility that is a standard feature for many apartments. Considering that nowadays we spend an average of 40,000 hours in the bathroom to accommodate modern living, it is not surprising that we prefer to design this space to our individual taste and ideas. With "Ambiance® by Walraven", a sophisticated installation system is now available with finished surfaces designed to fulfil dreams in no time at all.

Millions of bathrooms in Europe (and many of them are older than 25 years) are not renovated, despite adequate financial resources. The main reasons are dirt and noise, so most people opt out of renovation work. Besides renovating and modernizing bathrooms is a major construction challenge. Owners and tenants therefore require the least possible mess during the building process.

The basic design of "Ambiance® by Walraven" is dedicated to deal with this issue. This complete and brand-new bathroom renovation concept with prefabricated surfaces, which are directly mounted onto the pre-wall installation, facilitates the creation of high quality and individual bathrooms. It's also quicker to use again than any other conventional renovation techniques.

The structured, modular design of the prefabricated surfaces facilitates rapid and easy assembly. This has a substantial influence on the overall building time and costs.

A single specialist consultant can complete all the work. So there's no problems coordinating the project and disagreements can be avoided during construction.

Wide ranges of design options offer a great variety of design opportunities. Cool tiling is replaced by a warm, modern surface with a pleasant feel. This is also more hygienic and easy to clean. And to cater for changing tastes, die panels can be exchanged in no time at all and at very low cost.

Carefully harmonized decor features, insulation profile and Amtico flooring make the system incredibly easy to change. It's flexible and multi-functional. Light, multi-media and storage area installations leave enough space for creativity and individuality. Ultimately, that increases not only the value of a bathroom but an entire property. =Walraven/BfC=
